Financial hardship and ability to pay

Financial Hardship and Your Ability to Pay for Your Traffic Citation. If you have a financial hardship and can show that you are unable to pay the full amount for the offenses on your traffic ticket, you may request the court to consider your ability to pay in setting the fine amount. However, you must appear before the court to do so. Also, if you are ordered to pay a fine you may ask the court for an installment payment plan that is based on your ability to pay, or ask the court to approve community service due to financial hardship.

The Court's Responsibility

Trial courts are required to follow the laws passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. All of the penalties and assessments listed above are such laws. The trial courts are not responsible for creating those laws. If you are concerned with the amount of traffic fines, you may contact your state legislator.
